What happens next: all rules name the next learned pattern; only the route rule predicts the clean-ups, which are almost half of the escapes on non-star targets (window sigmas; n = number of escapes)

escapes in which a pattern is learned fraction predicted correctly

clean-up escapes: no pattern is learned, an off-target string is removed or amplitudes are corrected

	NC_binary4	NC_ht4	NC_mps4	R3	R3d	R4	R4d	RND1_binary8	RND1_mps6	RND2_binary8	RND2_mps6	RND3_binary8	RND3_mps6	TD_binary8	TD_mps6	B4_mps4	CTL1_binary8	CTL1_mps6 escapes in which a pattern is learned	n=440	n=724	n=353	n=0	n=0	n=0	n=0	n=360	n=718	n=724	n=381	n=355	n=694	n=0	n=57	n=527	n=1080	n=661 clean-up escapes	n=0	n=360	n=0	n=440	n=440	n=373	n=385	n=209	n=538	n=1	n=0	n=360	n=148	n=339	n=360	n=0	n=0	n=7

paper's greedy rule (route depth) numerical route rule
pairwise rule
largest weight first